DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Giguere.

Giguere discloses a process of degermination corn including tempering said corn, pre-breaking same (wherein it is considered that a polishing action would take place, particular since it is required that the germ in said treatment still remain whole), tempering same, and then treating same through a set of rollers which are would inherently cause a step of friction due to the separation between same (avoidance of size reduction of the germ, col. 11, lines 40-48) and difference in speed between the rollers (col. 12, lines 4-9).

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 14-18 are allowed.
3. Claims 2-13 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
4. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

The prior art of record neither discloses nor teaches the particular process as claimed wherein corn kernels are treated to a tempering step, polishing step, second tempering step, and a friction step wherein said friction step comprises applying friction forces to said corn kernels between at least two elastic surfaces. Although Giguere discloses most of these elements, it is silent regarding the use of roller with two elastic surfaces and there would be no motivation to employ same, particularly in conjunction with the double tempering steps called for.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
